A Practical, Effective Approach to Chartered Accountancy Services

As the owner-manager of a small or mid-size business, you have to focus on what you do best - so you rely on outside professionals to help you manage the non-core elements of your business, like accounting and financial planning. At Koster, Spinks & Koster, that's what we do best: offer sound professional insight and guidance that supports your business and helps it to succeed in the short and long term.

We provide practical, creative advice to entrepreneurs and to owner-managers, which enables them to solve problems and maximize opportunities in the areas of financial, tax, and strategic planning. We believe in the importance of listening in order to learn as much as we can about your goals, concerns and business. We express our professional opinions clearly and concisely, and take action based on a strong background of financial knowledge, judgement and experience.

Work One on One with Experienced Professionals

In 1978, Paul and Michael Koster and Jeff Spinks left careers at a national firm of chartered accountants to launch KSK. The partnership's success and growth has attracted bright and energetic people who ensure that our clients receive the best accounting advice and direction to meet all their financial goals.

Close partner involvement, strong professional expertise and loyal staff commitment create a consistently reliable support network for our clients. From the inception of the relationship, you know the individuals who will work with you to help build and guide your business. As the relationship grows, they continue to serve you, gaining insight into your needs and developing solid, creative solutions that address your unique situation and contribute to your success.

Our comprehensive list of services includes auditing, accounting, tax and business consulting - all the professional support you need to reach your financial goals.
